Gerald Puente, who tried to put me out of work, got big-ups and OSHA hasn't done a goddamn thing yet but bail-out the establishment; you should see the amount of paperwork I have, none of which mentions who hit me yet; Pro Staffing also has a fat safety certificate from, of course, government, when, in truth, they cover-up workplace disasters and hire from the soup kitchen where disasters are often found; I have a bad report I have to explain and haven't worked yet as a result of a rotten system where the bad people always get away with it. I got into it with Wanzl supervisor Shannon Hale at Walmart--who asked me if I was still unemployed, boasted that he was still there, but he didn't reek of pot like he always did when I got in his face and told him to shut his fucking mouth--I would have like to have knocked the rest of us broken teeth out but instead notified Walmart security aw
